The image features a stylized landscape composed of layered paper. In the background, there are several paper-cut trees of various shapes, including some with pointed tops and others with rounded, cloud-like tops. These are set against a light green background. In the foreground, there are rolling hills made of light-colored paper. The text "Tipografia Poncioni" is printed in a red, serif font across the middle of the image, over the hills. Below the text, on a white paper surface, there are several design elements: a color calibration bar with yellow, cyan, magenta, and black squares; a large black letter 'T' with a red spiral graphic inside its vertical stem; and two registration marks (crosshairs with a central dot).
